A Dedication to the Beloved Mrs. Scerra — In Our Hearts Forever —

February 21, 1981- May 22, 2017

"In order to discover new oceans, you must have the courage to lose sight of the shore."

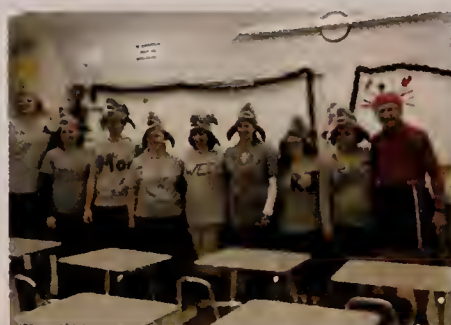

"Carolyn was all business when it came to teaching and I wondered how our seemingly opposite personalities would gel once instruction began. On the first day, I was truly inspired to watch her charge forward with a group of some of the most reluctant learners I had met. Throughout their academic career they had perfected the art of building walls to safely hide behind; not working to their potential; performing below already deflated expectations; and clearly communicating that school was not for them. But the biggest commonality was that these were 12 students who had never passed the Biology MCAS.

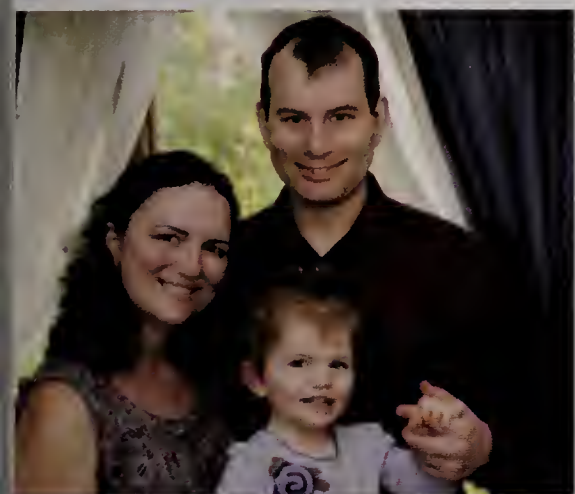

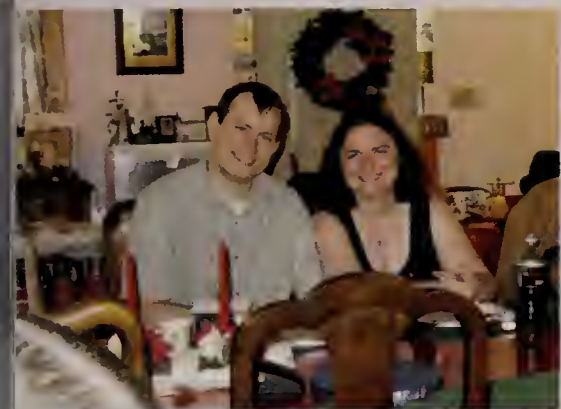

Carolyn never once lowered her expectations, never once watered down her lesson plans, never once flinched when faced with an eye roll or assignments that weren't passed in. Carolyn was certain that if she lowered her expectations for just one student in the group, it would send the message that she did not believe that they could learn and master the material and she simply did not believe that was true.

Carolyn LOVED teaching, she thought it was a sacred, noble calling and due to that, she was always striving to be better. Throughout that trimester, I came to respect and admire Carolyn as a colleague and more importantly, she became my friend. Every single student in that Biology class passed the MCAS that year. I called her on the phone thinking she would be as shocked and thrilled as I was, but she was not. She simply said, "I knew they would." I am forever grateful to have known Carolyn Wojcik Scerra, miss her dearly and try to honor her by being my best self every single day, especially when it seems the most difficult to do so."

- Kristen Newman MacAuley

"Carolyn Wojcik Scerra was a dear friend with a tremendous heart and a big smile. She had high expectations for her students and was there to help them reach those levels of greatness. Her classroom was always buzzing with students well after the end of the school day. She not only helped them succeed in school, but aimed to inspire them to love science and help them see how they could apply their knowledge in the real world. A stop into her classroom to ask a 'quick' question, grab supplies for a lab or just to say bye on my way out of school was never quick as we'd easily get side tracked sharing teaching ideas. These conversations weren't limited to school, even when we got together over vacations or when we were home at night, the emails and text messages included ways to expand and improve our science program. Her passion and enthusiasm was contagious and I know her former students will make her proud as they head off into the world to do great things." - Kara Lacome

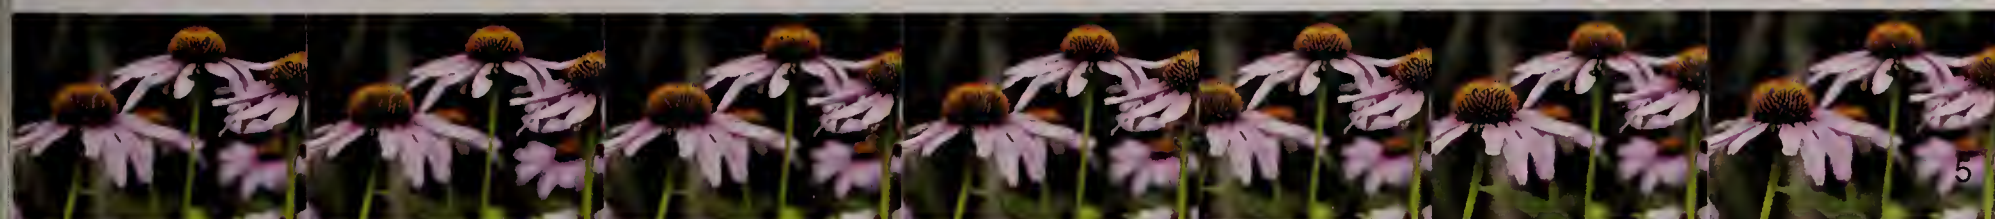

"Carolyn left this Earth to become an angel. She was a selfless woman and I'm sure she's still very busy helping others. Carolyn was a wonderful person who loved her family endlessly. She loved being married to Matt and being a mother to her little sunshine Isabel. Teaching was her passion and her muse. Carolyn is truly missed by all. She is forever in our hearts. Miss you. " - Maryann Travers

"To those of us in the science department, Mrs. Scerra was our colleague and our friend. She was a valued member of our department and continually worked to improve science education at NAHS. She loved all aspects of science and worked tirelessly to bring her passion to life. She never wavered from her commitment to the students at NAHS. She expected much, gave much and we gained much from knowing her. She was a shining example of perseverance in the face of adversity. Her impact on this school will be felt by all who had the pleasure of knowing her for years to come."
-NAHS Science Department

"I was Mrs. Scerra's supervisor for most of her tenure at North Andover High School. I remember Carolyn for her high standards and her love of her students. We would have passionate conversations about students and teaching practice. I always had a great deal of respect for her because she was honest and true to her values in teaching. She would teach, care, help and support all of her students. Mrs. Scerra taught Chemistry to all levels of students and made a big impact with our Scarlet Knight Academy program as well. We are better as a Science department and school community as a result of our time with Carolyn."
- Chet Jackson

A Note From The Editors...

Dear North Andover High School,

This year, the we aimed to create a yearbook that reflected our four amazing years here at the North Andover High School. Though it is hard to capture every memory created by the diverse student body, we wanted to display the incredible times shared in and out of the classroom. In doing so, we found that there is no true "theme" to define the population of North Andover High School. We decided that perhaps having no theme is what makes our school so inclusive and diverse. The fact that one overarching concept is not the definition of us all, is what made these past four years so important.

We wanted to show every aspect of our school- from the diverse clubs and organizations, to our elite chorus, band, and arts programs, to our State- Championship winning sports teams. We hope everyone, especially the Class of 2018, feels a part of this book and will treasure it as we go our own ways come next fall.

We could not have made this book without our outstanding yearbook advisors, Mrs. Wolf and Ms. Bradbury. Thank you for always being there to help us with any problems we faced- we would not be able to do all of this without your dedication, patience, and creativiity. We would also like to thank Tom Keeley our Jostens representative and Prestige for all the photographs.

Congratulations class of 2018!

Sincerely,

Senior Editors- Maria Cavallaro, Katie Hartford, Jess Checkoway, and Sarah Hernandez

Junior Editors- Angela Romano, Maeve Cronin, Christina Farmer, and Audrey Cicerchia

In Remembrance of Dave Philbrick

January 28, 1955 - November 21, 2017

"Dave Philbrick made things happen. He was a worker, a leader, and a great guy who was always willing to help. Dave was more than a custodian at NAHS. Dave cared about this school and he considered himself lucky to be part of the community. He continually gave to the school community without ever asking for anything in return. Dave came in on his own time to help install scoreboards, hang banners, repair doors, and to just make sure things were going well. NAHS lost Dave Philbrick this year, and while he never will be replaced, he has certainly left his mark. His, "we can make this work" approach permeates throughout the building. His work ethic, smile, and passion remain and shine through all of the people that worked with Dave. Dave's passion for NAHS was only topped by his love and dedication to his family. NAHS is eternally grateful for Dave Philbrick and honored to say, a long overdue and well deserved thank you!" -Scott Young

"Hey Dave, you were a man of great character, fair and fun to work for, and with. Our conversations and your laugh are truly missed. My memories of you will always be treasured." Your Pal, Guy

"You cannot mention Dave Philbrick's name in the halls of North Andover High School without someone sharing a memory of a time that he had gone out of his way to help someone. Dave was an impressive man. If a student thinks his sister lost her phone in the bleachers, Dave was a man who would pull them all apart for her. If a teacher thought she accidentally threw out centerpieces for a fundraiser, Dave was a man who would go through 200 bags of trash for her. Most importantly, Dave was a man who knew the minute details of your day-to-day life outside of school and would inquire about them, not to make small talk, but because he generally was interested. Dave's laugh could brighten up even the darkest afternoon and he was never too busy to stop and talk, just to check in. Kind, smart, funny, hard-working, and honest are words that come close, but don't quite capture Dave's spirit, a spirit still felt in the halls of NAHS by those who knew him. Dave Philbrick was not just a good guy, he was a great man. Every now and then, I am tempted to yell out, "hello governor" when I turn a corner. I miss you my friend, everyday." - Kristen Newman

I am still heartbroken at the loss of my friend Dave Philbrick. This is another example of how life can be so unfair sometimes. I like to believe that everything in life happens for a reason, however I am still searching for the reason behind this loss. Dave was the consummate family man. Whenever we talked, it always centered around his incredible wife Joyce and his amazing children. He was so proud of his family and he loved to share the latest about what was going on with Sean or the girls. Dave was one of the nicest, most compassionate, men I have ever known. Even when the stresses of life were building up around him, he never lost his cool. Dave was always so diplomatic and in control; I learned a lot from Dave when it came to leadership. My admiration and respect for Dave Philbrick will last me a lifetime. He was one of our community's unsung heroes...doing so much, for so many, without requiring much attention. I miss my friend! - Steve Nugent

"Dave was the glue that kept everyone together. He was knowledgeable, fair, friendly and a friend to all here at North Andover High. Even if you met him on the street, he was the same way. Dave loved life and showed it through his smile and his endeavors. He is sorely missed but in good hands. 'Keep smiling' 'Buddie got a minute' "

-NAHS Custodial Staff

A Little About David...

David graduated from North Andover High School in 1973. He worked in the Lawrence shoe mill for 8 years, became a computer technician and worked in that field for 20 years, and worked as a North Andover High School custodian for 20 years.

David's Favorite Things:

Favorite color: Red

Favorite singer/artist: Eric Clapton

Favorite movies: Bourne Identity series

Favorite hobbies: Grilling/cooking, golfing, gardening

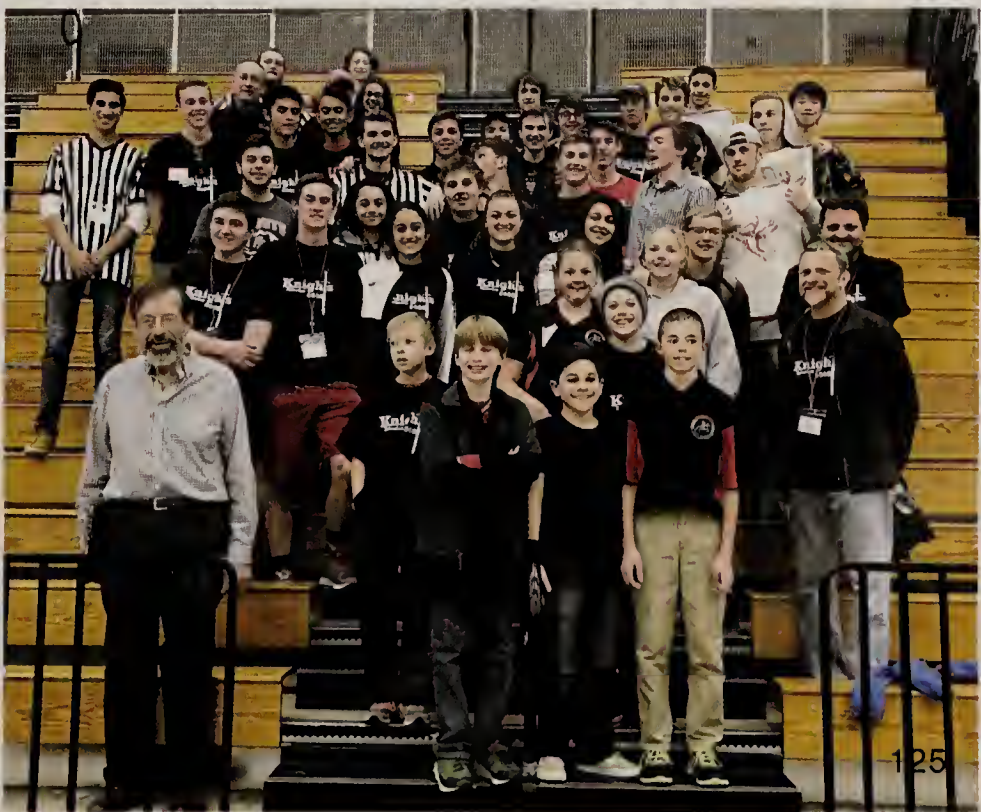

Favorite activities: Lounging by the pool or on the beach, watching movies, working on cars

David really enjoyed interacting with all of the students and faculty at the high school. He loved watching the students grow through the years, and he was always proud to call himself a custodian. He thought of all his coworkers as his friends.

Izzy Schneir

Isabella, our lives changed forever on that warm day in March 2001 when we saw you for the first time in the American Embassy in Guatemala. People always tell us how lucky you are that we adopted you but we are the lucky ones. We have been able to watch you grow into the woman you are today. You have overcome obstacles that many your age have never had to and yet you are stronger because of it. Isabella, I tell you all the time that the whole world goes right, go left. Be bold, take risks, believe in yourself, fall down so you can learn to stand up again. Dad and I will always be here to encourage and support you no matter what direction your life takes you. We love you unconditionally. Take Emmanuel College by storm and enjoy every minute of it!

xoxo

Dad, Mom, Tikal & Maya

Maddie Fredo

We are so proud of you and the amazing person you have become. May the rest of your journey continue to bring you happiness and success. Stay true to your heart, believe in yourself, be open to new experiences and be proud of all your accomplishments. Keep your dreams big and your worries small. Surround yourself with people who bring you joy and laughter. We are so lucky to have you in our lives. Watching you grow into such a beautiful and strong woman has been an incredible gift. We love you - Mom, Dad, Thomas and Avery

Lauren M. Gruber

Lauren, We are so proud of your accomplishments. Congratulations on your acceptance to NYU!!! We wish for you all the happiness in the world.
You are the light of our lives!
XO
Mom, Dad, Alex and Maggie

Roy Oza

Dear Roy,
What a joy it has been watching you grow from a baby to a wonderful young man. Wishing you the brightest future full of joy, love, good health and prosperity. Love Mom, Dad.
